

1 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
2 WESTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA
Harrisonburg Division

3 UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Criminal No. 5:16cr00008

4 Plaintiff,

5 vs.

Harrisonburg, Virginia

6 RYAN BUCHANAN,

7 8:18 a.m.

8 Defendant.

February 2, 2017

9 TRANSCRIPT OF GUILTY PLEA HEARING
10 BEFORE THE HONORABLE MICHAEL F. URBANSKI
UNITED STATES DISTRICT JUDGE

11 APPEARANCES:

12 For the United States:

GRAYSON A. HOFFMAN
U.S. Attorney's Office
116 N. Main St. Room 130
Harrisonburg VA 22802

13 For the Defendant:

14 JOHN H. ELLEDGE, III
15 Eldridge, Elledge Evans &
Harding, PLC
16 P.O. Box 1415
Harrisonburg VA 22803

17 JOSHUA B. ADAMS
18 53 West Jackson Blvd.
Suite 1515
19 Chicago IL 60604-3606

20 Court Reporter:

Sonia Ferris, RPR, OCR
U.S. Court Reporter
116 N. Main St. Room 314
Harrisonburg, VA 22802
21 540.434.3181. Ext. 7
22

23
24 Proceedings recorded by mechanical stenography; transcript
25 produced by computer.

1 THE COURT: Good morning.

2 Is the United States ready to proceed?

3 MR. HOFFMAN: We are, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Is the defendant ready to proceed?

5 MR. ADAMS: Yes, we are, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: It's my understanding we're here today to 7 conduct a Rule 11 guilty plea hearing. It's expected the 8 defendant will plead guilty to certain charges in the 9 superseding indictment.

10 Mr. Buchanan, before I call upon you to plead, I must 11 be satisfied that you possess a sufficient understanding of 12 your situation so as to make a knowing, voluntary,
13 intelligent and informed plea. In that regard, I need to ask
14 you certain questions and you must answer them under oath.

15 During this proceeding, if there's some question
16 asked or statement made that you don't understand, I need you
17 to stop the proceeding, let your counsel know there's 18 something you don't understand, and let me know as well.
19 Likewise, if there's something said here that you don't agree
20 with, that is just not consistent with what you understand
21 this guilty plea to be, you need to stop, let your counsel
22 know and let me know as well. One of the important parts of 23 this proceeding is that you are fully aware of what you're
24 doing, you understand what you're doing and this is what you
25 want to do. Okay?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

2 THE COURT: Now, if you don't speak up, I'm going to
3 assume that you understand what's being said and that you
4 agree with it.

5 Are we clear on that?

6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

7 THE COURT: Let's ask the clerk to administer the 8 oath to the defendant, please.

9 (Defendant sworn.)

10 Mr. Adams, if you would go to the podium with your 11 client, please.

12 Mr. Elledge, you're free to go as well, if you'd 13 like. Or you can stay there; whatever you want.

14 Mr. Buchanan, now that you've been sworn, do you
15 understand that you must answer all questions truthfully?

16 THE DEFENDANT: I do, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: If you answer any question falsely, your 18 answers may later be used against you for perjury or making a
19 false statement.

20 Do you understand that?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

22 THE COURT: I want to ask you some questions directed
23 to the issue of your competency. The reason I ask these 24 questions is because this hearing is important to you and I
25 want to make sure that you're clear-headed, alert and fully

1 understand what's going on. All right?

2 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

3 THE COURT: Tell me what your name is.

4 THE DEFENDANT: Ryan Buchanan.

5 THE COURT: And how old are you?

6 THE DEFENDANT: 35.

7 THE COURT: 35 years old.

8 Where are you from?

9 THE DEFENDANT: West suburbs; Downers Grove,
10 Illinois.

11 THE COURT: How far did you get in school?

12 THE DEFENDANT: Completed some college.

13 THE COURT: So you can read and write.

14 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

15 THE COURT: In English.

16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT: Understand English when it's spoken to 18 you?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

20 THE COURT: Do you have any condition that I need to 21 be aware of, such as a hearing problem or some other issue,
22 that might prevent you from understanding the words as 23 they're spoken here in open court?

24 THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

25 THE COURT: Have you ever been treated for any sort

1 of emotional or mental problem that might impair your
2 judgment, interfere with your thinking, make it difficult for
3 you to understand what's going on here today?

4 THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

5 THE COURT: Have you otherwise been diagnosed or 6 treated for any sort of mental illness or problem?

7 THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

8 THE COURT: Have you been treated for addiction to 9 alcohol or any narcotic drug?

10 THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

11 THE COURT: Have you taken any substances -- drugs,
12 alcohol, intoxicants, prescription medicines or controlled
13 substances -- in the last day or so that might affect your 14 judgment, your ability to understand what's going on here?

15 THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

16 THE COURT: Counsel, do you have an opinion with 17 regard to Mr. Buchanan's competency?

18 MR. ADAMS: I believe he is competent, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Do we have a copy of the superseding
20 indictment?

21 MR. ADAMS: I do, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Mr. Buchanan, have you received a copy of 23 that indictment?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I have.

25 THE COURT: Have you read it?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I have.

2 THE COURT: Have you gone over it with your lawyer?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I have.

4 THE COURT: Mr. Adams, what have you done to acquaint
5 your client with the charges against him in this superseding
6 indictment?

7 MR. ADAMS: Your Honor, Mr. Buchanan and I went over
8 the facts contained -- the statements contained in the 9 indictment; went over the evidence to support each count in 10 the indictment; and apprised him of the statutory maximums of 11 each count he's pleading guilty to.

12 THE COURT: Based on your discussion with your client
13 about the charges in the indictment, are you in a position to 14 waive its formal reading or would you like to have it read
15 into the record?

16 MR. ADAMS: We'll waive formal reading, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Mr. Buchanan, have you had a chance to 18 fully discuss the charges in the indictment with your 19 attorney?

20 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Do you believe you understand the charges
22 in the indictment?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I do.

24 THE COURT: Do you understand that they're felonies?

25 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

1 THE COURT: Do you understand that by pleading guilty
2 -- I believe the plea agreement provides for Counts 1 and 3.

3 MR. ADAMS: Yes, Your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Do you understand by pleading guilty to 5 Counts 1 and 3, that means that you are agreeing with the 6 government that you did what is charged in Counts 1 and 3?

7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

8 THE COURT: Now, I understand we have a written plea
9 agreement in this case. Have there been any changes to the 10 plea agreement since it was filed? Is there going to be an 11 amended plea agreement?

12 MR. ADAMS: Yes, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Do we have a copy of that amended plea
14 agreement?

15 MR. HOFFMAN: Yes, Your Honor. I have a copy here,
16 amended and initialed by the parties and the defendant.

17 THE COURT: Can one of you all tell me what the 18 changes were to the amended plea agreement from the one I
19 have in front of me?

20 MR. HOFFMAN: Yes, Your Honor; I'd be happy to.
21 There were two changes that were made.

22 THE COURT: Is it to the penalties -- supervised
23 release and the amount of the fine to Count 3?

24 MR. HOFFMAN: That's correct, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: That's what the law clerk e-mailed you

1 about yesterday?

2 MR. HOFFMAN: Yes, Your Honor.

3 We changed the maximum fine up to $500,000 and the 4 term of supervised release down to three years.

5 THE COURT: I think it's no more than three years; is 6 that right?

7 MR. HOFFMAN: I believe so, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: Do you understand those minor changes to 9 the plea agreement and did you go over those with your 10 lawyer, Mr. Buchanan?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

12 THE COURT: Did you initial those?

13 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I did.

14 THE COURT: Now, did you read the plea agreement?

15 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

16 THE COURT: Did you go over its terms with your
17 lawyer?

18 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

19 THE COURT: Did you go over every page?

20 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I did.

21 THE COURT: Initial the bottom of the page indicating 22 you went over it with your lawyer?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I did.

24 THE COURT: Sign it at the end?

25 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

1 THE COURT: Indicating you agree with its terms?

2 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

3 THE COURT: Now, I want to ask the United States
4 Attorney, Mr. Hoffman, to go over the essential terms of the 5 plea agreement. I do this deliberately, Mr. Buchanan,
6 because I want you to hear out of the mouth of the government
7 what they say this plea deal means. So if something doesn't
8 sound right to you, it would be time to let us know. Okay?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Okay.

10 MR. HOFFMAN: Your Honor, reading from page one of 11 the plea agreement: The defendant states his understanding
12 and his agreement that he will enter a plea of guilty to 13 Counts 1 and 3 of the superseding indictment.

14 Continuing on page one. Count one charges the 15 defendant with conspiring to distribute and possess with the 16 intent to distribute MDPV and alpha-PVP, which are controlled
17 substance analogues as defined by 21 U.S.C. Section 802 sub
18 32, and intended for human consumption, as provided by 21
19 U.S.C. Section 813, in violation of 21 U.S.C. Sections 846
20 and 841(B)(1)(c).

21 Here, the maximum statutory penalty is a fine of a
22 million dollars and/or imprisonment for a term of 20 years,
23 plus a term of supervised release of at least three years.

24 Count 3 charges him with knowingly and intentionally
25 conspiring with other persons to commit offenses against the

1 United States, in violation of Title 18 United States Code
2 Section 1956, to wit: To knowingly conduct and attempt to
3 conduct a financial transaction affecting interstate and
4 foreign commerce which involve the proceeds of a specified
5 unlawful activity; that is, conspiracy to distribute and 6 possess with the intent to distribute MDVP and alpha-PVP,
7 which are controlled substance analogues, as defined in 21
8 U.S.C. Section 802, subparagraph 32, with the intent for 9 human consumption, as provided in 21 U.S.C. Section 813; in 10 violation of 21 U.S.C. Section 846, with the intent to 11 promote the carrying on of such specified unlawful activity;
12 in violation of 18 U.S.C. Section 1956H.

13 The maximum statutory penalty is a fine of $500,000
14 and/or a term of imprisonment of up to 20 years, plus a term
15 of supervised release of three years -- up to three years.

16 In the middle of page two, the defendant states his
17 understanding that he's pleading guilty as described above
18 because he is, in fact, guilty and because he believes it's 19 in his best interests to do so, and not because of any 20 threats or promises.

21 At the bottom of page two and top of page three, the 22 defendant waives a series of constitutional rights upon his 23 plea of guilty.

24 Moving to page three, at the bottom. The defendant
25 states his understanding that if the sentence is more severe

1 than he expects, he will still have no right to withdraw his
2 plea. He's discussed sentencing issues with his attorney and
3 he realizes there is a substantial likelihood he will be 4 incarcerated.

5 Moving to page four, third paragraph down. The 6 defendant agrees to accept responsibility for his conduct.

7 In paragraph three on page four, the defendant states
8 his understanding that even if he fully cooperates with law
9 enforcement, the United States is still not under an 10 obligation to make a motion for the reduction of his 11 sentence. He understands that if the United States does make 12 a motion for a reduction in his sentence that it's the Court,
13 after hearing the evidence, that will determine how much of a
14 departure, if any, he should be given.

15 The defendant's monetary obligations under the plea
16 agreement are explained on pages 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. But 17 moving to page seven under the forfeiture paragraph, the 18 defendant agrees to forfeit a money judgment in the sum of 19 $5,000, and he agrees to remit that at least ten days prior 20 to his sentencing in this case.

21 Moving to page nine of the plea agreement, there, the 22 defendant agrees to waive his right to appeal and 23 collaterally attack, as spelled out in both of those 24 paragraphs.

25 Moving to page ten of the plea agreement. On

1 paragraph seven of page ten, the defendant states his
2 understanding that if he fails to plead guilty in accordance
3 with this agreement or withdraws his plea of guilty, any 4 statements he has made, including in the plea agreement, his
5 admission of guilt during or in preparation for any guilty
6 plea hearing, sentencing hearing or other hearing; and any
7 statements he has made or may make to any law enforcement
8 agents in any setting, including a proffer, may be used
9 against him in this or any other proceeding. He knowingly
10 waives that right -- he knowingly waives any right that he
11 might have under the Constitution, statute, rule or other
12 source of law to have such statements or evidence derived
13 from such statements suppressed or excluded from being 14 admitted into evidence, and he stipulates that any such 15 statements can be admitted into evidence.

16 At the bottom of page ten and the top of page eleven,
17 the defendant describes his agreement to cooperate with law
18 enforcement in the investigation. He agrees to cooperate
19 fully. He agrees to testify truthfully, and the remaining
20 details of that agreement are spelled out, again, on pages
21 ten and eleven of the plea agreement.

22 The remedies that are available to the United States
23 if the defendant breaches any provisions of the plea
24 agreement are explained on pages eleven and twelve.

25 On page twelve, paragraph F3, the defendant states he

1 has discussed the terms of this plea agreement and all
2 matters pertaining to the charges against him with his
3 attorney. He's fully satisfied with his attorney and his
4 attorney's advice. At this time, the defendant has no
5 dissatisfaction or complaint about his attorney's
6 representation. He further agrees to make known to the Court
7 no later than at the time of his sentencing any 8 dissatisfaction or complaint he might have with his
9 attorney's representation.

10 Moving to page thirteen of the plea agreement, about
11 halfway down. The defendant states he is willingly
12 stipulating there's a sufficient factual basis to support
13 each and every material factual allegation contained in the 14 charging document to which is pleading guilty.

15 Finally, on page fourteen of the plea agreement, a
16 couple paragraphs down, the defendant states that he has 17 consulted with his attorney and he fully understands his 18 rights. He's read the plea agreement, has carefully reviewed
19 every part of it with his attorney. He understands the 20 agreement. He's voluntarily agreeing to it. The defendant
21 says he has not been coerced, threatened or promised
22 anything, other than the terms of the plea agreement
23 described above, in exchange for his plea of guilty. Being 24 aware of all the possible consequences of his plea, he's 25 independently decided to enter the plea of his own free will

1 and is affirming that agreement on this date with his
2 signature below.

3 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Hoffman.

4 Mr. Adams, is that summary consistent with your
5 understanding of the essential terms of the plea agreement?

6 MR. ADAMS: Yes, it is, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Mr. Buchanan, is that summary consistent
8 with your understanding as well?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Do you believe you understand the terms
11 of the plea agreement?

12 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Do you have any questions about the plea
14 agreement that you want to ask the Court?

15 THE DEFENDANT: No, I do not.

16 THE COURT: Do you agree to the terms of the plea
17 agreement?

18 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Do you want the Court to accept the plea
20 agreement?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Has anybody attempted to force you,
23 threaten you, pressure you, coerce you, make you sign this 24 plea agreement?

25 THE DEFENDANT: No, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Make you plead guilty in this case?

2 THE DEFENDANT: No, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Have you been made any promises or 4 assurances separate from or different than those set forth in 5 this written plea agreement?

6 THE DEFENDANT: No, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Does the plea agreement represent in its
8 entirety your entire agreement with the United States?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Now, this is a felony offense, so in 11 addition to the penalties that Mr. Hoffman mentioned and that 12 I'll go over again in a minute, if you're found guilty of 13 this felony offense, along with it comes the deprivation of 14 valuable civil rights, including the right to vote, to serve
15 on a jury, possess any kind of firearm, hold public office.

16 Do you understand that?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Are you a citizen of the United States?

19 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 Now, Counts 1 and 3 of the indictment, superseding
22 indictment, have you read those?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Count 1 charges a violation of 21 United 25 States Code Section 841(a)(1), (b)(1)(C) and 846. That's a

1 drug trafficking conspiracy.

2 It indicates that with regard to that, that you and
3 others, from in or about March 2011 to in or about October of 4 2015, knowingly conspired to possess with the intent to 5 distribute and distribute one or more controlled substances,
6 which include one or more Schedule I controlled substances
7 and one or more controlled substance analogues, as they're
8 defined in the Code.

9 Do you understand that's what you're charged with in 10 Count 1?

11 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Count 3 is conspiracy to commit promotion
13 money laundering, and that charges -- that's a violation of 14 18 United States Code Section 1956. That is that you
15 conspired with others to knowingly conduct and attempt to 16 conduct a financial transaction affecting interstate or
17 foreign commerce which involve the proceeds of a specified
18 unlawful activity; that is, the conspiracy to distribute or
19 possess with the intent to distribute one or more controlled
20 substances or analogues.

21 Do you understand what Count 3 is?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Now, in order to get a conviction for 24 Count 1, the conspiracy -- drug trafficking conspiracy -- the 25 Government would have to prove that you agreed with another

1 person to violate the drug laws; specifically, to distribute
2 and possess with the intent to distribute substances known as
3 -- I'm just going to use the abbreviations -- MDPV and a-PVP;
4 that the defendant had knowledge of the essential objectives
5 of the conspiracy; that you knowingly and voluntarily
6 involved yourself in the conspiracy; and that there was some 7 interdependence among the alleged conspirators.

8 Now, during the period of this conspiracy, some of 9 the substances involved were considered to be controlled
10 substance analogues, and then later on during the period of 11 the conspiracy, they became scheduled -- Schedule I
12 controlled substances. So, for a portion of the time between 13 March of '11 and October of 2015, MDPV and a-PVP were
14 considered controlled substance analogues, as defined in 21
15 United States Code Section 802.32A.

16 To the extent they are intended for human 17 consumption, controlled substance analogues are treated as 18 Schedule I controlled substances under the drug laws. At 19 some point during the span of the conspiracy, each of these
20 substances was placed on a Schedule I of federal drug
21 schedules. MDPV was listed as a Schedule I drug on October
22 21, 2011, and a-PVP was listed as a Schedule I drug on 23 March 7, 2014. Before those dates, they were considered to 24 be controlled substance analogues.

25 The reason I tell you this is that there's a

1 different proof requirement on behalf of the government to
2 prove certain elements for conspiracy to traffic in these
3 substances when they were considered to be an analogue versus
4 when they were considered to be a Schedule I controlled
5 substance. Different proof requirements.

6 Do you understand that?

7 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

8 THE COURT: It really goes to the knowledge and 9 intent of the defendant.

10 As regards the knowledge requirement, the government
11 would have to prove that the defendant knew the object of the 12 conspiracy was to knowingly and intentionally distribute and 13 possess with the intent to distribute some controlled
14 substance; that is one actually listed on the federal drug
15 schedules, or treated as such by operation of the analogue
16 acts; or that the defendant knew of the identity of the 17 substance he was dealing with, even if he did not know the 18 legal status of the drug laws.

19 That's the McFadden case out of the United States.

20 In other words, the government would have to prove
21 that when it was an analogue that you knew it was -- it
22 either had the same chemical properties as a scheduled
23 controlled substance or had a similar effect on the human
24 body. And that it was intended for human consumption.

25 Do you understand that?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I do.

2 THE COURT: Later on when it was a controlled
3 substance, they would have to prove, in terms of knowledge
4 and intent, that you had some knowledge and intent that these
5 substances were, in some respect, controlled substances.

6 Do you understand the government would have to prove
7 that knowledge and different knowledge elements as regards
8 the period of the conspiracy in which they were controlled
9 substance analogues versus controlled substances?

10 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: As to Count 3 --

12 MR. HOFFMAN: Your Honor, I'm sorry. If I may, for a 13 point of clarification?

14 THE COURT: Yes.

15 MR. HOFFMAN: As the Court well knows and is on the 16 record, McFadden says there are a couple different ways. So
17 one of them is, of course, direct evidence the defendant
18 actually knew the substance was an analogue. Another way
19 would be circumstantial evidence that the defendant knew the 20 substance was an analogue. Or, as the Court just said,
21 evidence the defendant knew the chemical structure of the 22 substance was substantially similar to a controlled substance
23 on Schedule I or II, and the substance had the actual intent
24 or claim of the pharmacological effect.

25 Just highlighting McFadden provides a couple

1 different ways to satisfy the knowledge element.

2 THE COURT: Yes, it does. I was doing that off the
3 top of my head, so I appreciate you helping me with that.

4 MR. HOFFMAN: I couldn't do it off the top of my 5 head.

6 THE COURT: I've tried a couple of these cases, both
7 before McFadden was decided, so I'm familiar with that.

8 The elements of Count 3 would require the government
9 to prove the existence of an agreement between two or more
10 persons to commit one or more of the substantive money
11 laundering offenses described under 18 United States Code
12 Section 1956. In this case, the substantive money laundering
13 offense is to knowingly conduct or attempt to conduct a
14 financial transaction affecting interstate and foreign 15 commerce, which involves the proceeds of a specified unlawful 16 activity, and that is, in this case, conspiracy to distribute
17 and possess with the intent to distribute one or more
18 controlled substances, which included one or more Schedule I
19 controlled substances and one or more controlled substance
20 analogues, with the intent that those be used for human
21 consumption, as provided in Title 21 United States Code
22 Section 813, with the intent to promote the carrying on of 23 such specified unlawful activity.

24 The government would have to prove that you knew the 25 money laundering proceeds had been derived from an illegal

1 activity and that you knowingly and voluntarily became part
2 of the money laundering conspiracy.

3 Do you understand that in order to get a conviction,
4 the government would have to prove all of these elements of 5 Counts 1 and Counts 3?

6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Now -- and you've gone over all that with 8 your lawyer; right?

9 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

10 THE COURT: Gone over the discovery? Understand the 11 facts of this case; correct?

12 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

13 THE COURT: Talked with your lawyer about the fact
14 you could plead not guilty and go to trial?

15 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

16 THE COURT: You could enter a plea of nolo contendere
17 or no contest, and you could enter a plea of guilty?

18 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

19 THE COURT: And you've gone over all that with your
20 lawyer.

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

22 THE COURT: The maximum possible penalty for Count 1
23 is a fine of one million dollars, a period of incarceration
24 of from 0 to 20 years.

25 The maximum possible penalty provided by law for

1 Count 3 is a period of incarceration of up to 20 years and a
2 fine up to $500,000. There is no mandatory minimum penalty
3 for each count. There is a period of supervised release --
4 and I'll talk about that in just a moment -- of at least
5 three years on Count 1 and not more than three years on Count
6 3.

7 There's a money judgment forfeiture specified in the 8 plea agreement of $5,000.

9 Do you understand that?

10 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

11 THE COURT: There's a mandatory special assessment of 12 $100 per count for these offenses.

13 Do you understand those penalties are the 14 consequences of your plea?

15 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Have you gone over these penalties with 17 your lawyer?

18 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Have you talked with your lawyer about 20 the sentencing guidelines and how they may affect your case?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Let me preview for you briefly how I'll 23 go about arriving at a sentence in this case.

24 What's going to happen is, after today, I'm going to 25 ask probation to do a pre-sentence report. You will meet

1 with probation, with your lawyer, go over information that
2 they need. The Court will get a copy of the pre-sentence
3 report. Your lawyers will get a copy of it. The government
4 will get a copy of it and you'll have a chance to go over it
5 before the sentencing hearing. That pre-sentence report will
6 contain a recommendation to me, under the advisory sentencing
7 guidelines, as to what an appropriate range of sentence is in 8 this case.

9 Now, as I said, the sentencing guidelines are 10 advisory. They're not binding on the Court, but the Court is 11 required to consider those in association with the sentencing
12 in this case. So I start there. I will make guideline
13 findings at the sentencing hearing and then I will apply the 14 factors under 18 United States Code Section 3553(a). Those 15 factors include the nature and circumstance of the offense --
16 okay, what's the crime here? Two, the -- and particularly,
17 what did Ryan Buchanan do? What was his role in this offense?

18 Next, I will consider your history and your 19 characteristics, how you've lived your life otherwise; any
20 prior criminal history; any other physical, mental, substance
21 abuse issues that I have to think about.

22 I will move from there to more generalized
23 considerations, such as the need for the sentence to reflect
24 the seriousness of the offense; to provide just punishment;
25 to afford adequate deterrence; to protect the public; to

1 consider issues of avoiding unwarranted sentencing
2 disparities; and other factors.

3 In other words, I don't know today what sentence
4 you'll get. I need more information. I need the pre-sentence
5 report. I need the lawyers to make argument. I need to hear
6 whatever evidence there is and I need to apply these factors.
7 So I don't know what your sentence is going to be, but I do
8 know what the ranges are. For Count 1, it's from 0 to 9 20 years, and for Count 3, it's from 0 to 20 years. So, you
10 plead guilty and I accept that guilty plea, then I am, under 11 the law, authorized to sentence you anywhere from 0 to 12 20 years, and under this plea agreement, you're waiving your 13 right to appeal that.

14 Do you understand that?

15 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

16 THE COURT: Now, I'm going to give you and your 17 lawyer and the government ample chance to argue as to an 18 appropriate sentence. I'll give you a chance to bring in 19 people to testify in your behalf and provide me letters and 20 whatnot. But I just want you to know, at the end of the day,
21 it's up to me to decide what the penalty is.

22 Do you understand that?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Now, you may not like the sentence you
25 get; okay? And you will not be allowed to withdraw your

1 guilty plea simply because the sentence you get is higher
2 than what you might expect.

3 Do you understand that?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I do.

5 THE COURT: Now, there were no guideline stipulations
6 in here that I'm aware of that I have to think about, so each
7 side is free to argue guidelines as appropriate at sentence;
8 correct?

9 MR. ADAMS: Yes, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: I think there are other counts that will 11 be dismissed as part of this plea agreement. Okay?

12 Does the government agree in this plea agreement to 13 recommend a sentence within the applicable guideline range?

14 MR. HOFFMAN: We do not, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Yeah. So there's no agreement as to 16 sentence, one way or the other.

17 MR. HOFFMAN: That's correct, Your Honor. It's wide
18 open.

19 THE COURT: All right.

20 Mr. Buchanan, there is no parole under the federal 21 system anymore. If you are sentenced to a period of 22 incarceration, you will serve that entire term, less any
23 period of good time credit that might be given by the Bureau
24 of Prisons.

25 Do you understand that?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I do.

2 THE COURT: There's no board you can get out early.
3 As far as I'm concerned, whatever sentence you get, that's 4 what you'll serve.

5 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

6 THE COURT: For supervised release, for Count 1, it's
7 at least three years. For Count 3, it's up to three years.

8 Supervised release is a period after you serve any 9 period of incarceration that may be imposed in which you'll 10 be under supervision of the Court. Kind of like you're under 11 bond now. You can't break the law. You can't possess any 12 firearms. You can't use illegal drugs. You've got to tell
13 probation where you are and follow any of their instructions.
14 If you violate the terms of supervised release, you can be
15 brought back on a violation on the terms of your supervised
16 release and the Court can put you in prison for that 17 violation of supervised release. In other words, if you are 18 sentenced to a period of incarceration, after you've served
19 it, you still have an obligation to the Court and it's going 20 to be for at least three years.

21 Do you understand that?

22 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

23 THE COURT: Let's talk about what you're giving up on 24 this plea agreement. You're giving up three things.

25 First, you're giving up your right to a jury trial.

1 You're giving up your right to have twelve folks sit in this
2 jury box and decide whether the government has proven its 3 case against you beyond a reasonable doubt. You don't have
4 to prove anything. You are entitled to sit at counsel table
5 and remain silent and not have that silence used against you.

6 You would have, at the trial, the right to the
7 assistance of counsel under the Sixth Amendment. Again, you
8 have the right under the Fifth Amendment to remain silent.
9 You would have the right under the Sixth Amendment to see the 10 government's evidence, to confront and cross-examine their 11 evidence. You would have the right to use the subpoena power
12 of the Court to bring documents and things in here to assist 13 in your defense. You would have the right to require the 14 government to prove its case beyond a reasonable doubt to a
15 unanimous jury. All those rights you have upon a plea of not 16 guilty. But by pleading guilty, you waive all those rights
17 except for the right to the assistance of counsel, which you
18 will retain, but you waive all those rights and there will be 19 no trial.

20 Do you understand that?

21 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I do.

22 THE COURT: Next thing you're giving up in this plea
23 agreement, and it is on page nine, you're giving up your 24 right to appeal. You're giving up your right to appeal
25 except for any issue that cannot be waived as a matter of

1 law. What's the practical upshot of that for Ryan Buchanan?
2 That is, if I sentence you anywhere within the range that the
3 law allows -- and that's up to 20 years -- you can't appeal
4 that. You're giving up your right to appeal that.

5 Do you understand that?

6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Now, third thing is you're giving up your
8 right to collaterally attack the judgment. Well, what does 9 that mean? A collateral attack on the judgment is a filing of 10 a petition for a writ of habeas corpus under 28 United States
11 Code Section 2255, and it is a petition to the Court to "let 12 me out" because there was some statutory or constitutional
13 violation in the way your case was handled. You are giving 14 that up in this plea agreement except for any claim that your 15 lawyer was constitutionally ineffective.

16 Do you understand that?

17 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: So, in other words, you're giving up your 19 right to jury trial in its entirety. You're giving up your 20 right to file an appeal. You're giving up your right to file
21 a habeas petition except in narrow circumstances.

22 Do you understand those rights you're giving up in 23 this plea agreement?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Now, understanding those rights, do you

1 still want to go forward?

2 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Are you fully satisfied with the advice
4 and representation provided by your counsel, Mr. Elledge and 5 Mr. Adams, in this case?

6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir, I am.

7 THE COURT: Is there anything you have a question
8 about what we've covered? Anything you want to ask me about 9 before we go forward?

10 THE DEFENDANT: No, sir.

11 THE COURT: Let me ask the United States to present
12 the facts it would be prepared to prove were this case to go
13 to trial.

14 MR. HOFFMAN: Yes, Your Honor.

15 And Your Honor, before I read the statement of facts,
16 with the Court's indulgence, may I just read the elements
17 again for Count 3 into the record, for the sake of clarity?

18 THE COURT: Please.

19 MR. HOFFMAN: For promotion and money laundering, the 20 government would have to show the defendant agreed to commit,
21 as the Court said earlier, promotion money laundering;
22 promotion money laundering being, one, the defendant
23 conducted or, here, conspired to conduct a financial 24 transaction having at least a de minimus effect on interstate
25 commerce or involving the use of a financial institution

1 which had at least a de minimus effect on commerce. Two, the 2 property was the subject of the transaction involved in the
3 proceeds of a specified unlawful activity, as the Court
4 mentioned before. The defendant knew that the property
5 involved the proceeds of some form of unlawful activity, and 6 the defendant engaged in the financial transaction with the 7 intent of promoting the carrying on of such a specified
8 unlawful activity.

9 As to the statement of facts --

10 THE COURT: Appreciate that clarification, Mr.
11 Hoffman.

12 MS. CARLTON: Would the Court like me to read it or 13 just put it in?

14 THE COURT: I think we need to go over it here in 15 open court.

16 MR. HOFFMAN: I'm reading from a statement of facts
17 that has been signed by both the defendant and his attorney
18 and initialed by the defendant on all three pages.

19 At the top, it starts with: The offenses described
20 below occurred within the Western District of Virginia, and 21 elsewhere. The statement of facts briefly summarizes the 22 facts and circumstances surrounding the defendant's criminal
23 conduct. It does not necessarily contain all the information
24 obtained in this investigation and applicable to an accurate
25 pre-sentence report and sentencing guidelines calculation.

1 This statement of facts is not protected by proffer
2 agreement, or any other agreement, and shall be wholly
3 admissible at trial, notwithstanding any rules or statutes to 4 the contrary, including but not limited to Federal Rules of 5 Evidence 408 and 410 and Federal Rule of Criminal Procedure
6 11.

7 From in or about the spring of 2011 to in or about
8 October of 2015, Robert Justin Schroeder, Jason Bradley,
9 Deborah Ryba, David Scholz, who's now deceased, Ryan
10 Buchanan, Brian Lister, Nicolas Purintun, and others worked
11 together to distribute large amounts of controlled
12 substances, including controlled substance analogues, which 13 are also called synthetic drugs or bath salts, throughout the 14 United States, including here in the Western District of 15 Virginia. Some of the controlled substance analogues they 16 distributed were MDPV and alpha-PVP. The synthetic drugs the 17 members of this conspiracy sold were intended for human 18 consumption. Operating under the business names of Modern
19 Day Prophet and Platinum Prophets, this conspiracy
20 distributed more than 20 kilograms of controlled substance
21 analogues, and their earnings exceeded a million dollars.

22 Defendant Buchanan was an original member of this
23 conspiracy and the one who suggested naming the company
24 Modern Day Prophet. Modern Day Prophet became a major
25 wholesale supplier of synthetic drugs to some of the

1 synthetic distributors who were actually shut down during
2 Operation Log Jam, the DEA's nationwide federal roundup of 3 synthetic drug distributors in 2012. In the beginning,
4 Robert Schroeder, Ryan Buchanan and other members of the 5 conspiracy formed Modern Day Prophet, and opened bank
6 accounts associated with this company. Schroeder, Buchanan
7 and others had signature authority on these bank accounts and 8 conducted financial transactions related to the sale and 9 purchase of synthetic drugs. Buchanan had signature
10 authority on the Modern Day Prophet bank account -- that's 11 plural -- bank accounts. Buchanan stopped selling synthetic 12 drugs or MDPV in late 2012.

13 Members of this conspiracy obtained the majority of 14 their synthetic drugs from a source named Jason Bradley.
15 Bradley was married to Deborah Ryba, who was the cousin of 16 David Scholz, now deceased. Schroeder also obtained
17 controlled substance analogues from other sources he found
18 online. Beginning in 2011, Schroeder, Scholz and Buchanan
19 transmitted to Jason Bradley large sums of money to purchase
20 synthetic drugs for resale here in the United States. They 21 generally used the proceeds from the drug sales in the United 22 States to purchase additional synthetic drugs from Bradley.
23 Scholz, Schroeder and Buchanan transmitted money to Bradley
24 in a number of ways, including wire transfers, cashier's
25 checks and United States currency. Some wire transfers to

1 Bradley exceeded $50,000, and some individual orders exceeded
2 ten kilograms, which is approximately 22 pounds of drugs.

3 Bradley obtained synthetic drugs from Chinese
4 chemical companies. To obtain the drugs, Bradley and his
5 wife, Ryba, travelled to China, which included Thailand,
6 Hong Kong and China -- travelled to Asia -- excuse me --
7 including Thailand, Hong Kong and China, to coordinate the 8 purchases, repackaged the drugs and shipped them back to the 9 United States. To avoid detection by law enforcement,
10 Bradley usually smuggled the drugs in a variety of items,
11 such as cosmetic fingernail dryers, makeup bags, children's 12 toys and stuffed animals, and also addressed the packages to 13 fake businesses or fake individuals at a variety of anonymous
14 P.O. boxes in the United States. Members of the conspiracy
15 sometimes stored synthetic drugs at storage facilities in the 16 United States. After the packages arrived in the United 17 States from Asia, Schroeder, Buchanan and other members of 18 the conspiracy picked up the shipments and redistributed the 19 synthetic drugs to sub-distributors around the United States,
20 including head shops, gas stations and other types of 21 sub-distributors, in Virginia, Illinois, New York,
22 Pennsylvania, Indiana, North Carolina, South Carolina,
23 Georgia, Texas, Missouri, Ohio, Oregon, Nevada and Michigan.
24 Buchanan and other members of the conspiracy received
25 feedback from customers regarding the strength and weakness

1 of the synthetic drugs they were selling.

2 While Buchanan worked for MDP in 2011 and 2012, he
3 maintained and supplied approximately five to ten regular 4 customers that were head shops and gas stations that resold
5 the synthetic drugs to other customers in different states.
6 Buchanan sold synthetic cathinones -- bath salts -- and
7 synthetic marijuana -- cannabinoids -- to MDP
8 sub-distributors. The bath salts were labeled Crystaal
9 Bubbly Hookah Cleaner for a period of time during the 10 conspiracy.

11 Nicolas Purintun and Brian Lister also repackaged and 12 sold synthetic drugs for the conspiracy. Purintun repackaged
13 and/or distributed synthetic drugs for Modern Day Prophet in 14 various locations in the United States, including Cincinnati,
15 Ohio; Columbus, Ohio; Atlanta, Georgia; and New York.
16 Purintun also used the fake name "Tom" to avoid detection by 17 law enforcement. Lister maintained and supplied customers in 18 different locations, including Atlanta, Georgia.

19 Buchanan took steps to avoid law enforcement
20 detection because he knew the substances he and other members
21 of the conspiracy were distributing were controlled by 22 federal drug laws and he feared detection by law enforcement.
23 For example, Buchanan knew that some of the MDP
24 sub-distributors had been arrested and charged in 2012 as 25 part of the nationwide federal synthetic takedown, Operation

1 Log Jam. The synthetic drugs that Buchanan and other members
2 of the conspiracy sold bore deceptive names for the
3 substances to conceal their true nature, such as "hookah
4 cleaner," when, in fact, the substances were not used to 5 clean hookahs. Buchanan was aware law enforcement had seized
6 some Modern Day Prophet shipments and that Bradley typically 7 smuggled the drugs inside of cosmetic nail dryers, the makeup
8 bags and children's toys in order to avoid police detection.
9 Buchanan personally observed some of these items, including 10 the nail dryers and toys, in which he believed the synthetic 11 drugs had been hidden for shipping. Buchanan knew that 12 Bradley and Ryba offered insurance for an additional cost in 13 case the synthetic drugs were seized during the shipping
14 process. Buchanan and other members of the conspiracy also 15 used burner phones, which were separate anonymous cell
16 phones, to communicate about matters related to their 17 conspiracy and avoid detection by law enforcement.

18 As explained above, the members of this conspiracy
19 possessed and distributed MDPV and alpha-PVP, among other
20 synthetic drugs. MDPV and alpha-PVP were controlled
21 substance analogues as defined by 21 U.S.C. Section 802, sub
22 32. The chemical structure of MDPV is substantially similar 23 to methcathinone, a Schedule I controlled substance, and the 24 pharmacological effect on the central nervous system is 25 substantially similar to that of methcathinone. The chemical

1 structure of alpha-PVP is substantially similar to MDPV,
2 which became a Schedule I controlled substance in July of
3 2012, and the pharmacological effect on the central nervous
4 system is substantially similar to that of MDPV. As noted
5 above, alpha-PVP became a controlled substance in March of 6 2014. When the members of this conspiracy distributed
7 controlled substance analogues, they intended that the 8 chemicals would be consumed by humans seeking to experience a
9 high.

10 The defendant then states that he has reviewed the 11 above statement of facts with his attorney and he believes
12 the facts are true and correct. He agrees had this matter
13 gone to trial, the United States would have proven the facts
14 outlined above beyond a reasonable doubt.

15 THE COURT: Mr. Adams, any dispute about the facts
16 just presented?

17 MR. ADAMS: No, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Mr. Buchanan, you've just heard a summary
19 of the evidence against you. Is there anything in the written
20 statement that's just been read here with which you disagree?

21 THE DEFENDANT: No, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Did you go over this written statement
23 with your lawyer?

24 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Did you do the things that are attributed

1 to you in this statement?

2 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I did, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Tell me what you did that makes you feel
4 guilty of these criminal charges. What did you do?

5 THE DEFENDANT: Well, I had the product shipped from 6 China, hidden to try to avoid the detection in order to,
7 obviously, sell them to head shops for proceeds that we
8 laundered through the business that I was involved with,
9 Modern Day Prophet.

10 THE COURT: Did you know the purpose for these 11 substances? Did you know why they were being sold?

12 THE DEFENDANT: Yes.

13 THE COURT: What was that?

14 THE DEFENDANT: To get you high.

15 THE COURT: So humans would consume them to get high.

16 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT: Mr. Hoffman, let me ask you this 18 question. What's the connection to the Western District of 19 Virginia?

20 MR. HOFFMAN: There were customers in the Western 21 District of Virginia, and there was at least one other
22 sub-distributor here in the Western District of Virginia,
23 Your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 Did you understand that as well, Mr. Buchanan?

1 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Now, are you, in fact, guilty of what's
3 charged in Counts 1 and 3 of the superseding indictment?

4 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Pleading guilty of your own free will?

6 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, I am.

7 THE COURT: Counsel, based on your investigation of 8 the facts of this case, your understanding of your client,
9 what took place in connection with the indictment, your 10 review of the discovery, do you believe your client's plea of 11 guilty to Counts 1 and 3 pursuant to the written plea
12 agreement is well advised and consistent with these facts?

13 MR. ADAMS: Yes, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: And in his best interests?

15 MR. ADAMS: Absolutely, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: As to Count 1 of the superseding
17 indictment pursuant to the written plea agreement, Mr.
18 Buchanan, how do you plead?

19 THE DEFENDANT: I plead guilty.

20 THE COURT: As to Count 3 of the superseding
21 indictment pursuant to the written plea agreement, Mr.
22 Buchanan, how do you plead?

23 THE DEFENDANT: Guilty.

24 THE COURT: Listen to the clerk while she reads the 25 written guilty plea form.

1 (Guilty plea form read.)

2 THE CLERK: Is this correct?

3 THE DEFENDANT: Correct.

4 (Guilty plea form executed.)

5 THE CLERK: Your Honor, the guilty plea form has been 6 executed.

7 THE COURT: It's the finding of the Court in the case
8 of United States vs. Ryan Buchanan that the defendant is 9 fully competent and capable of entering an informed plea.
10 He's aware of the nature of the charges and the consequences
11 of his plea. His plea of guilty as to Counts 1 and 3 pursuant 12 to the written plea agreement is knowing, voluntary,
13 intelligent, supported by an independent basis in fact as to 14 each of the essential elements of the offense.

15 I'm going to take the plea and plea agreement under 16 advisement pending sentencing. I'm going to refer the matter
17 to probation for the creation of a pre-sentence report.
18 You'll be asked to give information. Your lawyer may be 19 present at any such interviews by probation.

20 You'll be given a chance to review the pre-sentence
21 report, make any necessary objections or corrections to it
22 before sentence.

23 Sentence is set for May 24, 2017, at 11 o'clock, in 24 this courtroom.

25 By agreement of counsel, agreement of the United

1 States, I'm going to allow you to continue on bond. Same
2 terms and conditions of bond you have been under. I
3 understand from probation there have been no violations.

4 Look. It's not in your interests between now and the 5 time of sentencing to mess up on your bond. You want to make
6 sure from your standpoint that you indicate to the Court that 7 you are as cooperative and law-abiding as possible. It just
8 wouldn't look good for you to get involved in any violations
9 of the terms and conditions of your bond, including any 10 additional law-breaking, between now and the time of your 11 sentencing.

12 Do you understand that?

13 THE DEFENDANT: Yes, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Anything else from the United States?

15 MR. HOFFMAN: No, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Mr. Adams, anything else from you?

17 MR. ADAMS: No, Your Honor. Thank you.

18 THE COURT: I'll see you in May. Good luck to you,
19 Mr. Buchanan. Please stay out of trouble between now and 20 then.

21 Ask the marshal to declare a recess.

22 (Proceedings concluded at 9:05 a.m.)

23 "I certify that the foregoing is a correct transcript from 24 the record of proceedings in the above-entitled matter.

25